About Masters Programme in Bioinformatics

M.Sc Bioinformatics is Post-Graduate Programme of two years, consisting of four Semester, viz. Semester-I, Semester-II, Semester-III and Semester-IV, for students who wish to start their career as Software developer of Bioinformatics, Research Scientist, Analyst, Computational Biologist, and Database Programmer. The students will have job opportunities in Clinics, Hospitals Research Universities, Agriculture Sector, Food Industry, Pharmaceutical Companies, Department of Health and Human Services, Biotech Industry, Academics/Teaching, and Entrepreneurship for the establishment of their own ideas.

M.Sc. in Bioinformatics will prove to be a good start for students who wish to establish themselves in various fields. After finishing the course curriculum successfully, the students may also pursue higher Degree courses such as PhD in Computational Biology/Computational Chemistry/Bioinformatics or they may also get Grants for conducting their own research after completion of post graduation. This curriculum is designed in such a way that a student would cover Computer Science, Biology, Statistics, Mathematics and Chemistry/Biochemistry. It has many practical applications in different areas of biology and medicine such as Genome examination of various diseases, using computational tools to identify and validate new drug targets, in the development of diagnostic tests for various diseases.
