The Directorate of International Affairs (DIA) is a strategic link between the University and external stakeholders internationally across a variety of activities. DIA facilitates the implementation of the internationalization strategy of the University and its constituent community. DIA caters to promoting International linkages for driving the multifarious agenda of cutting age globally benchmarked academic research; student, faculty, and staff outreach; while simultaneously endorsing a broader culture of diversity across the University.

ABOUT THE CONFERENCE

Education plays a crucial role in achieving the Sustainable Development Goals, it's not only an instrument for the development of individuals, but also a key driver of sustainable development. The National Education Policy (NEP) 2020 in India also emphasizes the importance of quality education in achieving sustainable development. It aims to transform the education system in India by making it more inclusive, flexible, and multidisciplinary. The policy emphasizes the importance of quality education and the need to ensure that education is accessible to all. Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) are intended to be a universal call to action to end poverty, protect the planet and ensure that all people enjoy peace and prosperity by 2030.

The G20 is a forum for international economic cooperation and decision-making. The G20 countries represent around 80% of global economic output, two-thirds of the world's population, and three-quarters of international trade. It plays a critical role in promoting global economic growth, stability, and sustainability. The G20 has recognized the importance of sustainable development and has set targets for education, gender equality, and climate action in its Sustainable Development Agenda. The agenda acknowledges that achieving sustainable development requires a comprehensive and integrated approach that takes into account economic, social, and environmental factors. The conference will provide a platform for participants to discuss and explore how the G20 can support the implementation of the SDGs in education and explore ways to ensure that education is a priority for international cooperation and partnerships. The conference will focus on the importance of quality education and explore ways to ensure that education is of high quality and relevant to the needs of learners. The International Conference aims to provide a platform for researchers, teachers, policymakers, institutions and practitioners to discuss and explore the opportunities and challenges of SDGs in the context of education.
