NOTICE

Subject: Call for applications for outgoing staff mobility to Cracow University of Economics, Poland under Erasmus+ programme

The University has an ongoing Inter-Institutional agreement with Cracow University of Economics (CUE) under Erasmus+ Programme.

A teaching staff mobility (GGSIPU to CUE) is available as part of the Erasmus+ Programme. The theme for the teaching mobility is “Critical thinking in the age of AI”. The mobility is open to full-time faculty members of the University (having PhD degree). Under the mobility, the faculty shall stay at CUE for five days. Faculty members interested to apply for the position should have taught at least one course related to the above theme over the last academic year, which needs to be vetted by the Dean of the concerned School. The candidates are advised to develop an outline for the course proposed to be delivered by them at CUE. It is expected that the candidates have published research papers related to the said course in journals with impact factor (Web of Science).

Full-time faculty of the University interested in availing the outgoing staff mobility for teaching, are invited to apply (routed through Dean of the concerned school) to the Directorate of International Affairs in hard and soft copy. The applications must contain the following documents:

1. PhD degree;
2. Statement of purpose (SoP) for applying for the mobility;
3. Document certifying English proficiency at PG level or beyond;
4. Proposed course outline supported by relevant research in the area; and
5. List (and copy) of publications during the years 2024 and 2025 (clearly indicating the impact factor, if any)

The applications for the mobility may kindly be invited for submission by 20th March 2026 at the following coordinates.
