Workshop on Importance of International Law

This is to inform that University School of Law & Legal Studies in collaboration with "Rainmaker" is organizing a "Workshop on International Law" for the students of 'University School of Law & Legal Studies' 21st January, 2015. The workshop will be conducted by Professor Ken Randall, CEO/President iLaw Ventures, Provost of Charlotte School of Law & Arizona Summit. The workshop will be on the widening ambit of international law and its growing importance in India today. Prof. Randall will discuss not only the expanding intersection of international law and domestic law, but the way that legal education in the US is attempting to encompass and integrate its own law, international law, and the law of other national legal systems. Given his expertise on the subject, Prof. Randall will speak about the current cross-border transaction scenario in India and globally. All the interested students of USLLS are advised to come in formals & attend the workshop as per the schedule given below.
